Dr Charlotte Grezo, Claim number 12755
Chapter 11 Case Number 08-13555 (JMP) re: Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc et al
Three Hundred Seventeenth Omnibus Objection to Claim to be held on 19th July 2012
before the Honourable James M Peck

Dear Sir or Madam

I refer to the notice of the Hearing on Three Hundred Seventeenth Omnibus Objection to Claims (No liability LBL Employee Claims).

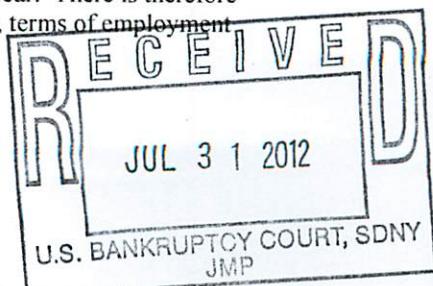

Without prejudice to other claims that I have made I cannot see any reason for disallowing my filed claim (Claim number 12755). As laid out in my letter of 5th September 2009 (copy attached)

Contribution to Occupational Pension Scheme. I joined Lehman Brothers Ltd from Vodafone where I was a member of a well funded final salary occupational pension scheme. To compensate me for my early departure from that scheme and the substantial rights that I was immediately losing, Lehman's undertook to make a series of payments. These are represented by clause 7 & 8 of the agreement. I have been advised that in these circumstances a creditor in respect to these payments is a "preferred creditor" and the payments would be "preferred payments" ranking below expenses of administration and fixed charge holders but above general creditors. Once again this is in respect to the Company and all Associated Companies. The mechanics are however a little less clear as although it is my agreement, the payments are described as to be made to the Lehman Brothers Pension Scheme. I would suggest that we discuss this matter and liaise with the trustees and the scheme administrator.

In addition I had already signed a compromise agreement (attached) with Lehman Brothers Limited:

In that agreement I gave up certain rights and claims against Lehman Brothers Ltd and its Associated Companies (as defined by s736 Companies Act 1985) as well as acquiring ongoing obligations (Clause 13, 14 & 15). In return they undertook to make these payments set out above. The contract is accordingly enforceable in full against both Lehman Brothers Ltd and all its Associated Companies, throughout the world. You should note that as Global Head of Sustainability my role with Lehman Brothers included all Group companies particularly the US. Clauses 8 (pension) and 16 (Compensation) make clear that Associated companies obligations are part of the consideration.

A compromise agreement subsumes all the claims by both parties to it in one agreement providing certainty to both as well as giving additional rights to both. In this case Clause 19 makes this very clear. There is therefore no need for either party to resort to Employment Tribunals to determine rights, quantum, terms of employment.

etc. The document sets all the rights out in full. Obviously the Company has not yet met its obligations under this contract so, as the party wronged by the Company's breach of contract I have to reserve any rights I may have to take action to protect my interests, either against the company and its assets or its administrators. In particular I reserve any rights that I may have to contend that the Administrators may have adopted my contractual obligations as an administrative expense. I do so (inter alia) because I do not consider as a matter of fact that the administrators terminated my contract within 14 days of appointment.

Given the circumstances of both the pension and the compromise agreement I therefore believe that my claim should neither be disallowed nor expunged.

I look forward to your response.

Yours faithfully

C A&B Grezo

Dear Sir or Madam

Dr Charlotte A B Grezo, Creditor

I am writing to you as a creditor of Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc and its affiliates. There are two enclosures

- 1 The completed Proof of Claim Form for Case Number 08-13555 (JMP), unique identification number 1000034896
- 2 A copy of a "compromise agreement" dated 12th September 2008 with a copy of the qualified lawyer's certificate.

All the conditions in that agreement have been met and all the amounts set out in its terms are due and payable. The total claim is for $1,175570 (£645,917.58 @ $1.82 = £1) in the following amounts which were due on the following dates. In respect of late payment interest should be added at full commercial rates.

Description	Amount	Sterling	Due Date (no later)
Amount Representing Bonus	$731,644 (gross)	£1.82=£1.00 £402,002.20*	10 Working Days of receipt of letter-Friday 26 th September
Payment in Lieu 12 weeks	12*£2584.61= £31,0115.38 less £11,200 £19,815.38	£19,815.38	1 st October 2008

Legal Assistance and other within the agreement	£1000 plus £100	£1,100	1 st October 2008
Outplacement Counselling-payment in lieu	Estimate £3,000	Estimate £3,000	1 st October 2008.

* Contract provides for average rate as defined by Lehman Brothers. This is not in my possession but may be obtainable by the Court. Pending more details I have estimated an average for the period from public data.

In that agreement I gave up certain rights and claims against Lehman Brothers Ltd and its Associated Companies (as defined by s736 Companies Act 1985) as well as acquiring ongoing obligations (Clause 13, 14 & 15). In return they undertook to make these payments set out above. The contract is accordingly enforceable in full against both Lehman Brothers Ltd and all its Associated Companies, throughout the world. You should note that as Global Head of Sustainability my role with Lehman Brothers included all Group companies particularly the US. Clauses 8 (pension) and 16 (Compensation) make clear that Associated companies obligations are part of the consideration.

There are a few additional points.

1 Payment in October 2008, I received a payment from Lehman Brother Ltd (in Administration) since this was equal to a months salary net of tax I propose to offset this against the heading payment in lieu of notice thus reducing the overall claim.

2 Contribution to Occupational Pension Scheme. I joined Lehman Brothers Ltd from Vodafone where I was a member of a well funded final salary occupational pension scheme. To compensate me for my early departure from that scheme and the substantial rights that I was immediately losing, Lehman's undertook to make a series of payments. These are represented by clause 7 & 8 of the agreement. I have been advised that in these circumstances a creditor in respect to these payments is a "preferred creditor" and the payments would be "preferred payments" ranking below expenses of administration and fixed charge holders but above general creditors. Once again this is in respect to the Company and all Associated Companies. The mechanics are however a little less clear as although it is my agreement, the payments are described as to be made to the Lehman Brothers Pension Scheme. I would suggest that we discuss this matter and liaise with the trustees and the scheme administrator.

A compromise agreement subsumes all the claims by both parties to it in one agreement providing certainty to both as well as giving additional rights to both. In this case Clause 19 makes this very clear. There is therefore no need for either party to resort to Employment Tribunals to determine rights, quantum, terms of employment etc. The document sets all the rights out in full. Obviously the Company has not yet met its obligations under this contract so, as the party wronged by the Company's breach of contract I have to reserve any rights I may have to take action to protect my interests, either against the company and its assets or its administrators. In particular I reserve any rights that I may have to contend that the Administrators may have adopted my contractual obligations as an administrative expense. I do so (inter alia) because I do not consider as a matter of fact that the administrators terminated my contract within 14 days of appointment.

As a creditor of the company and its associates I appreciate the work that is being done on my behalf and of the complexity of the problems being dealt with. It would help me to help them in their task and minimise difficulty if you were able to do the following-

- 1 Confirm receipt of this letter and its enclosures.
- 2 Confirm that you will treat this letter and its enclosures as delivery of a claim against all associated companies within the US.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully

2 Compromise agreement dated 12th September 2008

LEHMAN BROTHERS

Charlotte Brereton Grezo
by hand

WITHOUT PREJUDICE & SUBJECT TO CONTRACT

12 September 2008

Dear Charlotte:

I refer to our discussions concerning the termination of your employment with Lehman Brothers Limited ("the Company") and your request to bypass the official consultation period and write to set out the Company's proposals in this regard:

Termination Date

1. Your employment shall terminate on 30 September 2008 ("the Termination Date").

Duties up to Termination Date

2. Up to and including the Termination Date you shall work normally and co-operate in an orderly transfer of your duties.

Salary & Benefits to Termination Date

3. You shall be paid up to and including the Termination Date in respect of any unpaid base salary subject to the deduction of income tax and employee's national insurance contributions. You are required to take any accrued holiday entitlement during your notice period. The employee benefits that you enjoy as an employee shall continue up to and including the Termination Date but except to the extent otherwise specifically provided for in this letter shall thereafter cease.

Pay in Lieu of Notice

4. Pursuant to the Company's right to pay you in lieu of notice, (clause 1.13, Lehman Brothers' Employee Handbook) you will be paid 12 weeks salary in lieu of notice. This payment will be subject to the deduction of income tax and employee's national insurance contributions.
5. Your P45 shall be made up to the Termination Date and issued accordingly.

Bonus

6. You will be paid $731,644, representing the balance of your 2008 total compensation guarantee in cash within ten business days of receipt of your signed agreement subject to appropriate income tax (40%) and employee National Insurance contributions (1%). For the avoidance of doubt, this amount will be paid in GBP taking into account your "Average" rate election under the terms of the 2008 FX election programme. The "Average" rate will be calculated from 01 December 2007 through your termination date.

If, before the Firm's regular bonus payment date, you engage in Detrimental Activity or do not comply with your obligations under this agreement, you will be required to ~~promptly repay this amount to the Firm (net of any tax and employee national insurance which may have been deducted if applicable)~~. You acknowledge that you are not entitled to participate in the Firm's 2008 equity award program.

Pension

7. You will in due course receive a statement of any accrued benefits you may have under the Lehman Brothers' Pension Scheme from the scheme administrators Fidelity Investments Life Assurance Limited.
8. In accordance with your offer of employment dated 11th July 2007 and revised 19th July 2007, the Company has committed to make special employer contributions to the Lehman Brothers Pension Scheme "the Scheme" as follows:
 - £85,000 into the Scheme in the month you joined the Scheme - contribution made in February 2008
 - £85,000 into the Scheme 12 months after you joined the Scheme - scheduled for contribution in February 2009
 - £85,000 into the Scheme 24 months after you joined the Scheme - scheduled for contribution in February 2010

As part of this agreement, the Company shall for itself and each Associated Company accelerate the final two special employer contributions totalling £170,000 ("Special Contribution") into the Scheme. The Special Contribution will be made (subject to you delivering to the Company all things that you are required to deliver pursuant to this letter):

- (a) Without deduction of income tax and social security; and
- (b) by means of a transfer into the Scheme within 30 days of the later of your Termination Date or the date of receipt by the Company of this signed agreement; and
- (c) Unless otherwise advised in advance the Pension Contribution will be invested in the Legal and General Global Equity 40/60 Fund. You will be able to subsequently transfer the Pension Contribution into alternative fund choices available in the Scheme either online via Fidelity's PlanViewer or by contacting Fidelity's Pension Service Centre in the normal way.

By signing this agreement, you acknowledge that in the event such contributions plus any other pension inputs in the tax year 2008/2009 breach the Annual Allowance under UK pensions legislation, you will personally be liable to pay the appropriate income tax to HMR&C through filing the relevant UK Tax Return. You are recommended to take specific advice on this issue if you deem necessary.

Lehman Brothers' Equity Award Program

9. As you are aware, for certain of your outstanding contingent stock awards ("CSAs") that were granted in connection with the Lehman Brothers Equity Award Program and remain subject to full conditions, you are expressly required to execute a release agreement when you leave the Company as a condition of "involuntary termination without cause" treatment with respect to such awards. If you sign and comply with this agreement, you will satisfy the release requirement applicable to such awards. You will receive in due course a statement of your CSAs/Options and/or Fund Participation Investments. Subject always to the terms of the relevant plan documents, you may retain your right to CSAs and/or Options, but they are subject to forfeiture only should you engage in Detrimental Activity as defined under the Lehman Brothers' Equity Award Program controlling plan documents. You should refer to the relevant plan documents for full details. For the avoidance of doubt you also agree and acknowledge that any breach by you of the obligations set out in paragraphs 13, 15 and 22 below will constitute Detrimental Activity for the purposes on the Lehman Brothers' Equity Award Program.

Outstanding expenses

10. You shall submit any outstanding expense claims with supporting receipts prior to the Termination Date and shall thereafter be reimbursed in respect of such claims subject to the Company's normal expenses policy.

No debts etc owed by Company

11. You acknowledge that there are no sums of money due to you from the Company or any Associated Company (except as provided for in this letter). You confirm that you do not have and will not have following the Termination Date any claim or entitlement under or in connection with any bonus incentive share option or similar scheme (including but not limited to the Lehman Brothers Equity Award Program) and that neither the Company nor any Associated Company (nor any trustees of any scheme established by the Company nor any Associated Company) is or shall be liable to make any payment or provide you with shares under any such scheme.

Return of Company property

12. You shall return to the Company on or before the Termination Date all property which is in your possession or custody or under your control belonging to the Company or any Associated Company and all property belonging to third parties which is in your possession or custody or under your control by virtue of your employment. The property to which this paragraph applies includes but is not limited to passes, keys, credit cards, business equipment, documents, correspondence, lists of customers or clients computer disks and data and all copies and duplicates of such items whether in a physical or electronic form. You shall also immediately inform the Company of the passwords used by you on all Company equipment and documents used or created by you.

Continuing obligations

13. You acknowledge that notwithstanding the termination of your employment you continue to have a duty of confidentiality to the Company and that this means that you must not disclose or communicate to any person or use for your own benefit or the benefit of any third party any confidential information concerning the business and affairs of the Company and any Associated Company which has come to your knowledge in the course of your employment (unless any such confidential information enters the public domain other than through your default). You also acknowledge that in the course of your employment you had access to and were provided with significant amounts of Company and Associated Company confidential information and any breach of your continuing confidentiality obligations would be extremely damaging to the interests of the Company and/or an Associated Company (as the case maybe).

Resignation from offices

14. By your signature to this letter you resign from any offices and/or directorships which you may hold within the Company or any Associated Company or any trusteeships or any other appointments that you hold in connection with your employment. You also agree to sign and deliver to the Company on demand any further documentation and take such action to give effect to your resignations as the Company may reasonably require.

Statements

15. You will keep the fact of and contents of this letter confidential to yourself and your professional advisers and will not make publish or otherwise issue any detrimental or derogatory statements concerning the Company or any Associated Company or any of their present or former officers or employees or clients. You and the Firm will agree on a message concerning the circumstances of your separation from Lehman Brothers, and you will confine any comments to the substance of this message in discussions with any third party other than your immediate family and legal advisors. You will be paid the sum of £100 as consideration for this paragraph subject to the deduction of income tax and employees national insurance contributions. Payment will be made at the same time as the Compensation Sum is paid. For the avoidance of doubt you acknowledge and agree that whilst the consideration set out in this paragraph represents valuable consideration it does not amount to an estimate of or cap on the loss or damage which the Company or any Associated Company would suffer were you to breach any of the obligations set out in this paragraph.

Compensation

16. The Company shall for itself and each Associated Company pay to you the sum of £50,000 ("the Compensation Sum") as compensation in connection with the termination of your employment. The Compensation Sum will be paid (subject to you delivering to the Company all things that you are required to deliver pursuant to this letter):

(a) subject to the deduction income tax (except as to the first £30,000) at the basic rate; and

(b) by means of a BACS transfer to your bank account within 14 days of the Termination Date.

Benefit continuance

17. You will continue to have the benefit of cover under the Company's private medical insurance scheme up to and including the Termination Date subject to the rules of the scheme.

Tax indemnity

18. The Company gives no warranty as to whether income tax or employee national insurance contributions are lawfully payable in respect of the Compensation Sum or any benefits provided under this letter which are to be made available to you after the Termination Date and you will be solely responsible for any such income tax and/or employee national insurance contributions which arise for payment except to the extent that the Company has made or does make an actual deduction in respect of such liability. Further you will indemnify the Company in respect of any assessments determination or demands levied or made by HM Revenue & Customs in respect of such liability and any interest charges or penalties arising in respect of it together with any costs and expenses incurred by the Company in dealing with any assessment.

Full and final settlement
